HERITAGE TRAIL

RETRACING THE FOOTSTEPS
OF OUR FOUNDING FATHERS AND BROTHERS.

Sevenhill Cellars was built by the Jesuits from stone quarried on the property. Make sure you visit the underground vaulted cellar when visiting the cellars.

The journey ahead is no more than 3 kilometres (including the Cemetery trail, or 1.8km without the Cemetery trail), but will span three centuries.
It is an easy stroll, but care should be taken on occasionally uneven ground.

This walking trail winds its way through the original plantings and buildings. Significant sites are coupled with stories to help bring to life the lives of those who came from afar
to create a new beginning.

Originally the vineyards were established to produce sacramental wine, but over the years, wine production has grown significantly and award-winning Sevenhill table wines are now highly regarded and enjoyed around the world.

Historic Sevenhill is one of the region's earliest settlements and the Clare Valley's first ever winery, founded in 1851 by a young Jesuit priest, Fr Aloysius Kranevitter and named in honour of the seven hills of Rome.

Visitors are welcome to take
the history heritage trail between 10am and 5pm.

1 WINERY AND CELLAR DOOR

Excavated by hand, the vaulted cellar is located directly beneath the oldest part of the winery and where the Sevenhill journey began. Your trail begins and ends here, so please join us in the tasting room to sample a little history in a glass once you return.

The Vaulted Cellar Shiraz is one of the lucky reds to spend time in the perfect stable environment of our underground cellar, where the wines mature slowly in oak barrels at the perfect temperature before being bottled.

2 SLATE TANK

One of the original wine storage tanks from the 1850s and made from the famed Mintaro slate. The coolness of the slate helped maintain lower wine temperature, which is critical during the hotter months. The tank was used in the distillery that operated between 1936 and 1968 to produce spirit used in fortifying wines like Muscat and what was then called Port, Tokay and Sherry.

3 THE OLDEST VINES IN THE CLARE VALLEY

The gnarly old heritage Shiraz vines you are now looking at were planted in 1860 and are regarded as one of the earliest surviving plantings in the region. With great age comes lower yields but more intensely flavoursome fruit.

Only the very best parcels of grapes make their way into a bottle of Sevenhill.

4 SANDSTONE QUARRY

Virtually every stone building first constructed at Sevenhill was made from sandstone excavated from quarries on site. It was backbreaking, dangerous work that took the life of Br. Georg Sadler in 1865 when he was struck on the head with a piece of blasted rubble.

5 ST IGNATIUS OF LOYOLA SHRINE

Erected in 1870 without mortar or cement, the shrine was dry built of local sandstone and shale by Br Lenz and Br Danielewicz as a memorial to one of the co-founders of the Jesuit Order, St Ignatius.

6 WAY OF THE CROSS

Also known as the Stations of the Cross or Way of Sorrows, this peaceful pathway is one of the most important devotions for many people of faith. Each of the 14 stations represent a specific moment of Christ's journey to his crucifixion.

7 CEMETERY

The resting place of parishioners, local pioneers and some indigenous people, the earliest gravesite dates from 1872. One of the most notable people buried here is Franz Weikert, a Silesian farmer who led a group of 146 immigrants and founded the first Catholic settlement in the Clare Valley in 1848. Franz was accompanied on his journey from Europe by Fr Kranewitter who would soon after establish Sevenhill. There is an option to skip the cemetery part of the heritage trail and go straight to Marian Shrine (9). This will reduce the length of the trail by 1100 metres. (Feel free to drive to the cemetery from Sevenhill carpark).

8 WEIKERT COTTAGE

When he first arrived in the region, Franz Weikert established a farm near Neagles Rock, south-west of the township of Clare. Fr Kranewitter lived with the family there until he purchased the land you are now standing upon. This cottage was completed in 1870 and the Jesuits repaid Franz's earlier kindness when the cottage became his and his wife Fransiska's home once the elderly couple were no longer able to farm their land.

Brothers would regularly set out from Sevenhill with their homemade produce and walk 27 miles to Burra to sell it. We named our 27 Mile Riesling as a tribute to their remarkable feat (and feet)!

9 MARIAN SHRINE

Originally built as a smokehouse, the small building was converted to a shrine dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary in the 1950s and one of the many sites visiting Jesuits come to for prayer and contemplation.

10 MADONNA OF THE VINES

Created by Adelaide artist, Andrew Parish, this sculpture was presented as a 65th birthday gift to Sevenhill's Jesuit Winemaker Emeritus, Br John May SJ AM, upon the completion of his 31st vintage in 1994. It depicts the artist's vision of the Madonna walking among the vines and blessing them to ensure good wines follow.

Our most revered premium Shiraz is named in Br May's honour as a tribute to his extraordinary commitment and 52 vintages at Sevenhill.

11 RECOGNITION AND RECONCILIATION

Two imposing columns of Mintaro slate, weighing 8 and 6.5 tonnes were erected in 2018 to recognise the NGADJURI people as the traditional custodians of the lands first purchased by Jesuit settlers in 1851 and our ongoing commitment to Reconciliation.

12 ST ALOYSIUS' CHURCH

Although it was always hoped a spire be erected, the steeple-less church has become a highly recognised landmark of Sevenhill and the entire Clare region. Substantially complete in 1875 with the southern transept and stairs added in the 1990s. St Aloysius church features Mintaro slate floors, stained glass windows, houses a painting of the Madonna presented by King Ludwig of Bavaria in 1848 and is where famed Australian poet, CJ Dennis was baptised in 1876.

We felt our Sevenhill Spire's Lament Viognier was a poetic way of paying tribute to our much loved, steeple-less church.

13 THE CRYPT

No other parish church in Australia has a crypt and it is the final resting place of 42 Jesuits whose names are carved into slate and marble headstones lining the walls of the vaulted chamber. Work began in 1864 and fortunately, were advanced enough to enter the remains of the unfortunate Br Sadler in 1865, although the Crypt wasn't fully complete until 1870.

14 SEVENHILL COLLEGE (no public access)

Along with the winery and church, the Jesuit residence and college were the first structures built at Sevenhill. It became the first Catholic secondary school in South Australia. Construction was complete in 1868 and it operated as a boarding school until 1886. It was home to brothers, Donald and Peter MacKillop while they were studying at the college. When their slightly more well-known sister, Mary (later St Mary MacKillop) visited them here, she stayed at Weikert Cottage. Today, the building is known locally as the College and is used for administration of the parish of Sevenhill, Clare, and Riverton and for programs of retreats and spiritual formation run by Sevenhill's Centre of Ignatian Spirituality.

The first building erected near here was a 10x3 metre mud slab hut that would become the first Catholic Seminary in Australia. Our Thatch and Clay Touriga pays homage to the first home of our founders.

15 PINE PLANTATION

Typical of the Jesuit's self-sufficiency, 1,000 pine trees were planted more than 50 years ago to make wooden boxes to transport wine in the pre-cardboard era. Close to this quiet area of contemplation, stands the World Youth Day Cross, erected in 2008 by WYD pilgrims who gathered at Sevenhill to celebrate the tri-yearly international festival.

16 SEVENHILL KRANEWITTER GREEN

A beautiful, shaded area of lawn named after one of the first Jesuits to settle in Australia, Fr Kranewitter. He named the property Sevenhill. Visitors can enjoy a cheese platter and glass or bottle of wine purchased from the Cellar Door. Various outdoor theatrical and community events take place on the Green throughout the year. Be sure to visit our website for details. www.sevenhill.com.au
